

Activities held in Belize on the occasion of the 2006 International Day for the Preservation of the Ozone Layer

Competitions on ozone protection issues were carried out in primary schools along with training for teachers on this subject. During ozone week, mass communication media were used to raise awareness about International Ozone Day celebrations.